

Dr. John Gleave to set up optometry practice in Heber

Optometrist Dr. John Gleave is moving his practice to Heber City from Salt Lake where he has practiced since graduation from optometry school in 1974. Dr. Gleave's new office will be in Dr. Larry Duke's building at 160 So. First West. The optometry office will be open week days except Monday and Thursday. It will also be open Wednesday evenings and Saturday.

Dr. Gleave also provides optometric services in Duchesne every Thursday at the Duchesne Valley Clinic. In addition to general visual examinations, Dr. Gleave enjoys working in the areas of childrens vision and contact lenses.

He is married to Heather Hindley Gleave also formerly a resident of Salt Lake.

Dr. Gleave attended Highland High School in Salt Lake, graduating in 1965. He received his B.Sc. from the University of San Diego in 1969 and his Optometry degree from the Southern California College of Optometry in 1974.

Heather and John both enjoy sports and outdoor activities and are looking forward to living in the Heber area. They are renting a house in Daniel and are planning to build a house in the spring.

The office will be open beginning Tuesday, Jan. 3. The phone number is 654-1863. You may call or drop in for an appointment.
